

Mark Champion BSc (Hons), MSc, PGcert, CEnv, CBiol, MCIEEM, MRSB Local WildlifeTrust Wigan Projects Manager. Currently I am managing eight Local Nature Reserves and other conservation land covering over 1500ha. These reserves are managed to maximise their Biodiversity interest and their value to the community within a peri-urban synanthropic environment. The work in this area has led to the implementation of novel techniques in conservation and community engagement within the peri-urban environment which have been part of several published studies and papers. I implement the restoration of post-industrial landscapes for nature conservation and judge the value of a number of habitat improvement projects against national criteria. I have visited China to look at similar issues within their coal fields.
