

Professor David Goode Ph.D, FCIEEM, CEnv., FRSA. David is an award winning ecologist and author who had a central role dealing with environmental issues in London for many years as Director of the London Ecology Unit, and Head of Environment at the Greater London Authority. He has an international reputation for his work on urban ecology and sustainability. An Honorary Professor at University College London, he wrote Nature in Towns and Cities (Collins, 2014), is currently co-editing the Routledge Handbook of Urban Ecology, and is a regular contributor to The Nature of Cities website. He is a Member of the IUCN World Commission on Protected Areas, specialising in biodiversity of the urban environment, and is a Past President of the Chartered Institute of Ecology and Environmental Management.