

Terry Robinson, Retired. Was Head of People, Engagement, Outreach and Access at Natural England. When Director for Sustainable Communities for the Countryside Agency promoted to government the value of a high quality green environment in urban locations. Also served as Head of Protected Areas for Countryside Agency, responsible for National Parks and AoNBs throughout England and led national programmes for England on landscape character and developed strategy for local identity.